

During uncertain times, it pays to be prepared

Without notice, life can throw you a financial curveball—or two. For education members, those curveballs can be especially hard-hitting. Wage freezes, pay grid restructuring, job loss or interruption—any of these have the potential to significantly affect your cash flow. As do the regular, ‘everyday’ financial emergencies (such as unexpected home or car repairs). Now more than ever, it’s important to be financially prepared for the unexpected.

Read on here to find out how you can be prepared for any sudden changes to your financial situation. Brought to you by Educators Financial Group. <https://bit.ly/3RgQEhp>
