

Don't miss these educator-specific tax credits

Did you know that as an educator, you're entitled to more tax credits than the average Canadian?

It's true. Not only that, but the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) allows corrections and omissions for a 10-year period ... so if you missed out on the deductions or tax credits available from past returns, you can still file adjustments – and potentially get money back.

Here is your eligible educator tax credit checklist: <https://bit.ly/4shgSD6>.
